1. Claims 1-11 are pending in this application.

2. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970);and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

- (I) Claims 1-11 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 3-10 of U.S. Patent No. 5,293,772. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both inventions claim a method for identifying patients at risk for atherosclerosis; identifying patients having a bleeding risk; and a treatment monitoring method wherein a measurement on the blood sample is selectively determined by platelet contractile force or clot elastic modulus. Thus, there is substantial overlap of the subject matter claimed in both inventions.
- (II) Claims 1-11 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 5-9 of U.S. Patent No. 5,205,159. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both inventions claim a method for identifying patients at risk for atherosclerosis; identifying patients having a bleeding risk; and a treatment monitoring method wherein a measurement on the blood sample is selectively determined by platelet contractile force or clot elastic modulus. Thus, there is substantial overlap of the subject matter claimed in both inventions.

- (III) Claims 1-11 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 7-15 of U.S. Patent No. 4,986,964. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both inventions claim a method for identifying patients at risk for atherosclerosis; identifying patients having a bleeding risk; and a treatment monitoring method wherein a measurement on the blood sample is selectively determined by platelet contractile force or clot elastic modulus. Thus, there is substantial overlap of the subject matter claimed in both inventions.
- 3. The Carr, Jr. references (US 5,106,186 and US 5,118,182) have been cited to further show the state of this art.
- 4. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Louise N. Leary whose telephone number is (571)272-0966. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday to Friday from 9:30 to 6pm.
